Paid for by Leslie Byrne for Congress

The only 11th District candidate to speak out against the war before the invasion, Leslie Byrne has never been afraid to do what's right.

As a Delegate, a State Senator and a Congresswoman, Leslie Byrne has always stood up for what she knows to be right, no matter how unfriendly the political landscape.

Leslie Byrne was the only candidate in the 11th District, Republican or Democrat, who spoke out against this war before the invasion, which is one reason anti-war Senator Jim Webb has endorsed her for Congress. Leslie has even endorsed a comprehensive plan to end the war in Iraq.

Both in Iraq and in our uncertain economic situation here at home, it was President Bush who led us astray, but it was Congress who let him. Leslie Byrne will never forget that the job of Congress is to do what's right, no matter what.

After all, she always has.
